Appointment Looks Certain.

It is known that Governor Cutler has been in accord with Colonel Googhe-gan's policy. In fact, the executive proffered Colonel Geoghegan the appoint-ment of adjutant general last summer. At that time the appointment was not accepted, although Colonel Geoghegan indicated his entire willingness to do the work of adjutant general without

Now, however, it is believed that Governor Cutler will again urge Colonel Geoghegan to become the adjutant, general, and that the appointment will be accepted. Governor Cutler expressed his pleasure upon receiving the peti-tion, although giving no further indi-

Major Williams said that the officers of the guard simply intended to convey their appreciation of Colonel Geoghe-gan's services thus far, and to express their wish that he accept the office as well as the duties of adjutant general.

Since assuming control of the guard last June, Vice Adjutant General J. M. Bowman, resigned, Colonel Geoghegan has pursued a vigorous policy. So radical were some of the changes, after a long period of inactivity, that doubts were expressed as to the acting adjutant's ability to carry out his plans. BANK LOSES A SHEEP CASE.

Court Holds That Lessee Had No Right to Mortgage Property.

In an opinion written by Justice Bartch and concurred in by Justices Straup and McCarty, the supreme court affirmed the judgment in the case of W. A. Wetzel, respondent, against the Desert National bank and Emil Ajax, appellants, Robert Kirk, defendant, and Andrew Kirk, intervenor.

The evidence was to the effect that Wetzel and others, owners of a herd of sheep, leased to Robert Kirk in September, 1900, and, at the expiration of a year, leased them for another year to the same person, the terms of the lease providing that the owners of the lease providing that the owners of the sheep should receive a certain percentage of the wool and increase of the flock.

During the second year of the lease, Kirk, according to the evidence, borrowed $2,500 from the bank, giving a chattel mortgage on the sheep without the knowledge of the lessors, and, later, executed another lease for a year. The note to the bank fell due July 2, 1902, but by that time the lessee had departed and his whereabouts, have remained unknown since. The bank seized the sheep in September, 1903, and sold them under the mortgage. Wetzel then began suit and recovered judgment against the bank for

> J. N. Spalding president of the Utah Federation of Labor, called on Assistant City Attorney W. H. Bramel yesterday afternoon to lodge a complaint against Showell Brothers & Belcher, sub-contractors on the Big Cottonwood conduit. Mr. Spalding charges that the contractors are violating the state law concerning labor on public works by requiring their employes to work more than eight hours a day, and that the contractors are discriminating against men who reside in the neighborhood of the work. On the latter point, Mr. Spalding said the contractors are giving preference to men who cannot go to their homes for their meals and are thus required to patronize the contractors' boarding house.

> As the work lies wholly outside the city limits, it is beyond Mr. Bramel's jurisdiction. By request of Mr. Spalding, however, Mr. Bramel directed a letter to the contractors and embodled in it a copy of the law on the subject.
